

If I were a fabric I would be described as....

Highly textured with patterns that are woven instead of printed,

With tiny tonal sequins for unexpected shine only when it hits the light,

Along with playful, feminine details that are classy and comfortable.

"A lady never discusses the size of her fabric stash, even if it's impressive."

The Dowager Countess
Downton Abbey